Newton Boxed By New Dump Burning Edict

Newton was faced today with the prospect of ignoring the new State Department of Public Health reg-ulation which prohibits open burning of dump refuse as an air pollution control measure.

Director of Public Works Willard S. Pratt said Newton has no alternative except continue burning three days a week until other provisions are made.

Odds Against Gov. Volpe In Freeway-Toll Road Fight

Governor Volpe probably is starting a fight he can't win in his clash with Turnpike Authority Chairman William F. Callahan over the State's right to build a reeway from the Weston terminus of the Massachu-

Unless and until Callahan surrenders and abanlons the idea of extending the Toll Road into Boston here is scant possibility that Volpe will be able to get the necessary funds to construct a freeway.

Volpe has the power, the prestige and the patronage of the Governor's office behind him in his conflict with Callahan, but it's still unlikely that he can match strength with Callahan in the Democratic-controlled State Legislature.

Even if the legal opinion rendered by Attorney General McCormack's office weer overturned by the Supreme Court, which is highly improbable, Volpe would have difficulty getting the necessary funds to inance the State's share of the cost of building a free-

The Governor would have even more trouble securng the repeal of the law allowing Callahan to extend the Toll Road while Callahan thinks there is any chance of his building it.

Callahan is attaching considerable significance to the ruling by the Attorney General's office that the State cannot build a link between Boston and the Weston end of the toll road as long as the law gives the Turnpike Authority the exclusive right to do so.

Do We Forget? Editor, The Newton Graphic, Dear Sir:

people, forget so soon the terrible holocaust, the inhuman destruction, the complete oblit destruction, the complete oblit-eration of everything that is dear to the human heart and mind; the killing, maiming and injuring of humankind in the most bestial manner ever attempted in human history?

It is much too soon to for-get the untold suffering of in-fants and babes in their mothers' arms and little chil-dren bombed and murdered, never again to see the light of day, meltars and fathers torday; mothers and fathers tortured alive, and millions of in-tured alive, and millions of in-nocent people shipped off to be cremated.

So soon have we forgotten what a militaristic Germany did during World War I and World War 11? But we can be sure that Germany will not again overrun Europe if she is stripped of her war potential. stripped of her war potential This is the lesson we must re member and never forget

Simple Rules Often Mean Lives Saved For Boaters

Ever hear people say, "There's nothing to running a boat, it's just like driving a car." The Red Cross, a local United Fund agency, this week advised new boat owners to be sure that their training and experient ience is on a par with the constantly changing weather and water conditions of New England.

With one out of every seven With one out of every seven families owning a boat of some kind and with hundreds of families renting boats, it is now estimated that more than 40,000,000 Americans are making use of our waterways this summer.

Unfortunately, the rapid growth of this fine family sport is resulting in an increasing number of boating accidents as the summer wears on. In many states, deaths by drowning are equalling weekend highway. equalling weekend highway fatalities.

Although boating accidents stem from many causes, the Red Cross reminds boating enthusiasts that most mish-aps could be avoided by ob-serving the following safety rules:

Yet, numerous other legislators view him as if he had broken some of the rules.

If the Republican voters of Massachusetts were to decide the contest for Minority House Leader, Perry unquestionably would win overwhelmingly.

But this is an election which will be decided by the GOP politicians, not the rank and file members of the Republican party. Perry consequently has little chance of winning.

Newton Scout Reports On New Mexico Hike

We'll not soon forget our first long New Mexican hike. It was for six miles from our base camp at Ponil to our first trail campsite at New Dean.

That day we found out that using burros has its ups and downs. One of the burros made up his mind not to cross a stream outside camp. We tried everything but a sirloin steak with mushroom sauce to get him to change his decision. It took a long time but in the end we induced him to follow one of his more favorite buddies across the stream.

Pres. Kennedy Shows Strain Of Six Months In Office

As President Kennedy delivered his historic speech in which he answered the Soviet challenge to Berlin, there was a disturbing personal sidelight to Massachusetts viewers who know Kennedy well.

No fault could be found with what Kennedy said or the way he said it. It was a masterful speech skillfully delivered. It obviously was aimed as much at peoples in the distant reaches of the world as those in the United States.

Persons who had watched Kennedy in a span of Persons who had watched Kennedy in a span of 14 years as he was elected to Congress and had gone on from there to a seat in the U. S. Senate and finally to the Presidency felt a swelling of pride at the manner in which he met the sternest test and the greatest crisis of his public career.

What was disturbing from a personal standpoint was that Kennedy appeared extremely tired.

He seemed to show the strain and stress under which he has been working and the weight and gravity of the problems he is carrying.

Kennedy appears to have aged much more than he took the oath of office, delivered his inaugural ad-

Although Kennedy has completed only about an eighth of his term, it was apparent that the heavy cares and worries of his office are not resting easily upon him, that he is not throwing them over his shoulder, as some men in high offices are able to do.

Maybe he was thinking of the impact the steps he was advocating could make on the lives of a past number of American families.

Or it might have been simply the toll which six months in the month of newers.

John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon had been selected as the Presidential standardbearers of their respective parties. A summer lull existed as the battle-weary candidates rested between the end of the conventions and the start of the campaigns.

The professional gamblers who are wrong more often than they're right when it comes to forecasting elec-tions, installed Nixon as the favorite at rather heavy odds. The odds, incidentally, changed the first time Kennedy and Nixon met in their face-to-face debates.

John A. Volpe, the GOP candidate for the Massachusetts Governorship, was hoping greater than the passing of the setts Governorship, was hoping that the nomination of Henry 12 months since the Democratic Cabot Lodge as Nixon's Vice Presidential running mate Presidential running mate would hold Kennedy's plural ity in the Bay State to a point where a Republican would have a chance of being elected Governor.

All these things probably were reflected in his solemn mien and his mask of weariness as President Kennedy studying in their classrooms a delivered the momentous generation from now.

State's C-D Plans Remiss Gibbs Claims

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs declares that for the past year his office has sought to correct what he termed "glaring errors" in opera-tional plans for Civil De-fense, but has "received no cooperation from our state organization which in my estimation is sorely remiss in its duties."

"Recently, I asked our Civil Defense Director to furnish this office a report in full detail outlining our organization, our ability to protect our citi-zens in an emergency, and our weaknesses that should be corrected.

"I am sure that our director is also well aware of the need for shelters and will press for any funds and technical assistance that will be available in this area of protection, from either the federal or state level."

Mayor Gibb's momments on Civil Defense were con-tained in a letter made public today which he sent to Ernest F. Dietz of 93 Hancock Ave., Newton, who proposed that a CD shelter be constructed on the site

Dictators have away of showing their hand, as Hitler did in "Mein Kampf." Perhaps they do this to sound a trumptor, their own people, but et for their own people, cannot avoid at the same time telling the whole world. The world has learned that these declarations must be taken seriously.

Throughout this manifesto the implication is clear that the predicted Communist Utopia will not be realized un-til the world has been led to Communism, "The world capi-talist system on the whole is ripe for the social revolution of the Proletariat," it says. It speaks of the "principles of social revolution" as being of "universal significance," proclaims that the "victory of the socialist revolution alone provides all possibilities and conditions for the abolition of all national oppression, for the voluntary union of free and equal nations and nationali-ties in a single state."

Of some significance, in view of present discussions in our own country, is the statement: "It is indispensable to in exhibition hops by its ownwage a resolute struggle er, Cole Palen, 35-year-old against anti-communism—that poison weapon which the bourgeoisie uses to fence off val, Bedford, August 16 to 19. masses from socialism."

This method applies only to the mone needed for development loans, and the money required for the rest of the program military and economic assistiance of various kinds—is provided by authorization and annual appropriation.

Even Sharks Have Friends

All Finny Monsters Not Man-eaters Says Expert

Even sharks have friends!
Recently, a shark-lover, obviously upset over the rash of shark scares at local beaches, called Boston's Museum of Science with an earnest plea to put in a good word for these — to quote him — "much ma agned creatures."
The Museum, recognizing that the few renegade members of this fish family were, indeed, giving a bad name to their law-abiding relatives, came through with the follow-came through with the follow-ing statement:

Not all sharks are man-eaters, and to find one of the man-eating variety in New England coastal waters dur-ing a summer is a rare oc-leave them to venture north.

Even in its home tropical waters it is never common.
"Scientists have little information on the home life and breeding habits of this shark because it is so difficult to find it to study. To see one in this area might be considered a naturalist's treat."

must have been such that an attempt to secure admission to a VA hospital would have been hazardous to the veteran, had ded.
And the VA may assume full medical responsibility in such cases only if the emergency treatment is reported to the nearest VA hospital or region.

For the New England bather who, unlike the New England naturalist, would certainly consider an encounter with a man-eater no treat It's reassuring to know that even if one appeared it is very unlikely to attack in the cooler waters of these lat-itudes.

The man eating shark is more aggressive in tropical waters, and in Sydney, Australia, where the waters are much warmer, the beaches are fenced in to prevent shark at-tack, Southeast Australia has tack, Southeast Australia has the greatest incidence of shark attack in the world, Frequently a man-eating shark's senses may attract it to a human, but the person's size and motion will frighten it away. Therefore, the danger of attack becomes greater with the approach of darkness or in waters that are muddy, when sharks are most apt to be surprised. Their attitude toward humans might well be comhumans might well be com-pared to that of the grizzly bear, which almost never at-tacks unless (1) it comes upon a person by surprise, or (2) the person molests the bear.

Following are precautions suggested as a result of extensive U.S. Government research during World War II:

1. Any large, still object at the water's surface will attract a shark's attention. Keep moving (preferably out of the water!).

2. If there are several swimmers, stay together and move slowly to a protected place.

3. And, very important don't attack the shark! Even the timid varieties will fight back, and drawing the shark's blood may attract others. In fact, any substantial amount of blood in water will stir poet sharks into.

tial amount of blood in water will stir most sharks into a frenzy of activity.

As previously mentioned, however, in New England the chances are extremely remote that the shark you observe on your fishing trip or swimming. that the snark you observe on your fishing trip or swimming in shallow waters is a maneater. Not one authenticated bite has been recorded in the past 80 years in waters north of Cape Cod. The latest on the Cape goes back 25 years to July 25, 1936, when a swimmer year fatally wounded by a discollaneous Sales 68

$9 Flimflam Trick by Pair

Now "Ethel" is a nice name as girls' names go, and although quite fictitious in this instance, this "Ethel" was the central figure in a flim-flam trick which netted two men $9 from a drug store.

Newton Police said this was pulled again.

Tony Polen owner of the Newtondale Pharmacy at 1439 Washington St., West Newton, told pulice how the scheme was worked by a team of two men. One bought a package of cigarettes with a $10 bill, got his change and departed.

Later a second man tendered $1 for a package of cigarettes, but when he was given change mformed the clerk that he had given her a $10 bill. As proof he stated that the name "Ethel" was penciled on the bill.

The clerk said a check of

The clerk said a check of the cash register showed this to be so, and she gave the man another 89 in bills. The scheme was discovered after the man left.

questions were left unanswered that demands for a second hearing are inevitable.

Who was to blame for the fact that the first hearing didn't clear the air and resolve the issues? Well, Governor Volpe, Public Works Commissioner Jack P. Ricciardi and probably even Representative Francis W. Perry of Duxbury and the newspapers all must share a measure of the responsibility.

After Representative Perry had levelled a long series of allegations against the operation of the State Waterways Division under Bessette and had called for Bessette's removal, the newspapers began in editorials that Volpe discharge Bessette.

It turned out that under the law the Governor does not have the power to fire Bessett and that this Ordinarily, that would be considered unfair and possibly even bordering on persecution. However, the first hearing on the complaints against Bessette was little more than a farce and a travesty.

So many charges against the Waterways Division weren't even mentioned at the hearing and so many questions were left unanswered that demands for a second hearing are inevitable.

SUBURBAN LIVING IS FOR THE BIRDS

• • • not for people. Birds need never mow, plow, weed, paint, spray, polish, rake, and so forth. People do, endlessly. We ask you, isn't taking care of your suburban haven almost all work and practically no play? We fear it often is. And, lo and behold, so does the knowledgeable editor of the South Shore Mirror who, recently, first quoted a press release and then expressed his views thusly:

Keep that Apartment Ready

That is the contention of Theodore J. Shoolman, vice-president of Charles River Park, Inc. His organization is developing Boston's West End into a $55,000,000 garden apartment neighborhood.

Shoolman noted, in a dis-cussion with Boston business-men, a study reported by the American Medical Association. recorded a high incidence coronary thrombosis, ulcers and hypertension in a subur-ban area. Besides trying to keep their homes "spotless ban area. Besides trying to keep their homes "spotless and dustless", many ambi-tious home-owners felt there could not be a "blade of crab-grass in the lawn."

Listen Shoolman, I could Listen Shoolman, I could tell you about some suburban diseases that would make coronary thrombosis, ulcers and hypertension seem as uncommon as beri beri. I myself am suffering from a disease of no known cure called 'ulcerative coalitis', a disease characterized by the intestines turning to pure charcoal, which, combined with the ingestion of homemade barbecue sauce, is usually fatal.

Another common suburban disease is tomatocolis, common among those who put in tomato plants and try to consume the produce of the plants, all two tons of which ripen in one week.

One of the most insidious of suburban diseases is known as 'recital lethargica' a dulling of the brain that comes from watching a 44 act dance recital in which your daughter appears around the 39th act.

Shoolman, I've got 17 more years on my mortgage, then, if the cutworms haven't got me I'll either be moving into town or going way out.

Bravo! And thank you. Our only suggestion to the wise editor — and to you — is: don't wait. A new and wonderful kind of intown living is waiting for you at Charles River Park. For all the marvelous details, read our advertisement on page 6 of this newsDeadline Oct. 15

BEWARE OF FLUORIDE OISONI

Do you want your children to have mottled teeth, as is happening in fluoridated cities?

Do yon want this toxic poisoning to accumulate and settle in your, own bones and tissues! People with allergies BEWARE!

Arthur Ford, Commissioner New York City De-Artnur rora, Commissioner New York City Department of Water Supply has been refusing for years to compel New Yorkers "to risk life-long extraordinary exposure to the toxic action of fluorides."

Did you know that 2500 cities and towns in America have turned down fluoridation?

Did you know that thousands of doctors in the United States have declared themselves publicly in opposition to fluoridation?

Did you ever read any proof of the harmless-ness of sodium fluoride in our water scientifically presented?

Mayor Solves Aldermanic Snafu By Vetoing Resolution He Likes

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs has vetoed on technical grounds a resolution adopted by the Board of Aldermen calling for the appointment of an eight-member committee to make a study of over-all city planning. The Mayor rejected the resolve because it is based on a companion measure approving his community renewal survey application which is still stalled in the Aldermanic Board.

Aldermanic Board.

Keep that Apartment Ready

That is the contention of Theodore J. Shoolman, vice-president of Charles River Park, Inc. His organization is developing Boston's West End into a $55,000,000 garden apartment neighborhood.

Shoolman noted, in a discussion with Boston businessmen, a study reported by the American Medical Association. It recorded a high incidence of coronary thrombosis, ulcers and hypertension in a suburban area. Besides trying to keep their homes "spotless and dustless", many ambitious home-owners felt there could not be a "blade of crabgrass in the lawn."

Listen Shoolman, I could tell you about some suburban diseases that would make coronary thrombosis, ulcers and hypertension seem as uncommon as beri beri. I myself am suffering from a disease of no known cure called ulcerative coalitis", a disease characterized by the intestines turning to pure charcoal, which, combined with the Ingestion of homemade barbecue sauce, is usually fatal.

Among common suburban disease is tomatocolis, common among those who put in tomato plants and try to consume the produce of the plants, all two tons of which ripen in one week.

Innovations Are Featured Monday At Taunton Track

"Innovations Unlimited" will be the theme of the 1961 Taunton Dog Track meeting opening next Monday night, August 28th, with the introduction of the fascinating Twin Double system of wagering, the ultramodern new paddock and the automatic starting box.

Field Day-

At the Peirce School the At the Peirce school the field day events took place in the forenoon and the day's ac-tivities were highlighted with a picnic lunch for all present at noon time, West Newton playground featured a tug-of-war with all the girls against all the boys. The girls won the event. Murray Road playground introduced a marathon as a feature of their program.

At Farlow Park the feature of the field day was a puppet show which was planned and programmed entirely by the children of the playground. They build their own puppets, riney build their own puppers, stage and scenery, and there were no less than nine chil-dren with speaking parts in the show, which was a modern version of Robinson Crusoe.

Thompsonville playground prepared an outstanding bi-cycle and doll carriage parade one of the largest held at that playground in recent years.

The tug-of-war at the Newton Highlands playground went to a two out of three competition before the win-ners could be decided.

Auburndale playground featured many specialty events and races. Two of the outstanding was the egg catch contest and the hot dog race.

At Newton Lower Falls playground the leaders were dressed in country "Gay Nine-ties" costumes and literally stole the show. The spirit of the children and spectators received a tremendous lift from this leadership participation in the program.

Newton Upper Falls play-ground featured many contests such as pie eating, pop eating contest, and tonic drinking contest, with the cus-tomary track and field events which were very closely con-

Richardson playground had one of the largest field day attendance of recent years, and their program was out-standing.

The big feature of the play-ground field days is the prep-aration of award certificates, ribbons for first, second and third place winners, and the Achievement award Annual Annual Achievement award is presented to the boy and girl on each playground who are judged by the playground leaders to be the outstanding boy and girl of the summer season. Governor Volpe will have a moral obligation to provide a place for Curtis at the head of the Republican State ticket if he signs into law a redistricting bill which wipes out his congressional sector and leaves no opportunity for him to stand for reelection.

In all the discussions and arguments over working out possible plans for the creation of 12 new congressional districts instead of the present 14, the Curtis district is always mentioned as one of those which would be broken up and liquidated if any new law is 28 From Newton

That is somewhat surprising since Curtis is serving his fifth term, represents the biggest congressional district in the Commonwealth and has been a good Congressman.

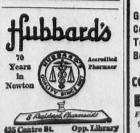

A suspicion exists that one reason GOP leaders are examinations in June, acmay be willing to sacrifice Curtis' district in any trade cording to lists published this with the Democrats is because it is somewhat doubtful week by the office of the Dithat any Republican other than Curtis could win electron of Civil Service.

This observer still considers it unlikely that the Democratic Legislature and Republican Governor olpe will be able to agree on any new division of congressional districts.

Frazier Asks Temple Mishkan 11th Term On Tefila To Start School Board Active Season

School Committeeman Francis P. Frazier is a candidate for reelection to the Newton School Board from Ward 1. He will be seeking his 11th consecutive term in the Nov. 7 election. His home is at 127 Pearl street. Himself an educator, Frazier retired June 30 from the position as princi-pal of the William Howard Taft Junior High School in Brighton.

Active in civic, fraternal and veteran affairs, he is a past Grand Knight of the Newton Council 167 of the Knights of Columbus, a past commander of Newton post 48 of the American Legion, a former member of the Newton Selective Service Board No. 112 and presently is a member of the Mayor's Civil Defense Advisory Board.

The rehabilitation and replacement of older school buildings will be one of the problems which will confront the Newton School Committee during the next two years, Beckwith declared.

He pointed out that for the past decade emphasis has been correctly centered on the construction of new school buildings largely in the Active in civic, fraternal and been correctly centered on the construction of new school buildings, largely in the southern section of the city.

This was accomplished, he said, by the sacrifice of proper maintenance of older schools in Newton.

Frazier declared that the School Committee now must squarely meet the issue as presented in the North Side Elementary School Study prepared by Planning Consultant Charles E. Downe.

A second problem, he said,

A second problem, he said, is to determine whether the old Newton High School should be rehabilitated or a new school erected of campus design and organized by houses.

Frazier expressed the opi-nion that the mathematics course in the Newton school system must be recriented and the foreign language course not only made more functional but started earlier and continued in a longer sequence.

He declared that the demand for a bigger and bet-ter school system must be tempered by the financial burden which would be plac-ed on the city's taxpayers.

Committeeman Frazier questioned the propriety of asking Newton taxpayers to pay for a free education for youths over 16 "who make a mockery of all attempts by teachers to educate them."

"Should the Newton taxpay-

"Should the Newton taxpayers be forced to pay $432 per year to allow school loafers to continue wasting their time and the taxpayers' money?" he demanded.

Frazier called for granting tangible rewards to school administrators who show exceptionally good leadership and to teachers who carry far beyond the letter of their contracts.

Danger-By-The-Yard

The real challenge of Labor Day driving on our express highways and city streets is not simply to survive that weekend, but rather to live and let live safely. Labor Day does not end the need for alertness. Liberty Mutual Insurance Company points out that the cumulative death toll from "normal" traffic greatly overshadows that of Memorial Day, July 4th and Labor Day.

These weekends have been dramatized to such an extent that many of us are inclined to shun highways during these peak traffic periods. Liberty Mutual traffic engineers have sent us a reminder that Labor Day on removal charges against him. marks a shift of emphasis from danger-by-the mile to danger-by-the yard—danger by the school yard and danger by the well-kept yards that line our residential Fight out of every 10 accidents result from momentary lapses by normally careful, consciencious drivers. And more accidents happen between the hours of 4 and 6 p.m. when children are at play (11.4 percent of the day's total) than between 11 p.m. and 1 a.m.

Those school's out hours can be made safe, Liberty Mutual's traffic engineers say, if only we remember to observe the fundamentals we were taught:

If only we remember that children are unpredict-

If only we admit that we are not infallible . . If only we heed speed signs, whether at schools or on turnpikes . . .

If only we keep our cars' safety equipment in shape to serve instantly when needed . . .

If only we remember that most accidents occur

Then we can edge our traffic toll down a little

Political Highlights

The possibility of a compromise will become somewhat stronger if Congressman Thomas J. Lane of Lawrence should win the fight he is presently waging on Washington's Capitol Hill for the enactment of a bill which would increase the membership of the national House and give Massachusetts 13 seats in the next Congress instead of 12.

Lane doesn't seem to be

Lane doesn't seem to be making much headway in his drive, but he might finally drive, but he might finally succeed if Congressional Majority Leader John W. McCormack throws his support behind the endeavor.

Even then, however, the district which would be slated to be carved up probably would be that of Congressman Curtis.

If the membership of Congress is not enlarged, the likelihood of a stalemate between the Republican Governor and the Democratic Legislature, which would force all congressions. which would force all congres-sional candidates to run state-

Democratic leaders are cool to that idea. They would like to wipe out two Republican dis-tricts and more if they could. Volpe would veto a bill which did the did that.

The only thing which may cause Democratic legislative chieftans to back down and pass a bill acceptable to Volpe is the pressure being exerted on them by Democratic Congressmen who don't want to make costly state-wide campaigns.

Bessette's suspension caused no cessation in the fire of critino cessation in the life of criti-cism against the way he has run the State agency he heads. If anything, it has increased the tempo and vigor of the attacks.

Even at the time Bessette was suspended for 30 days by State Public Works Comm. Jack P Ricciardi a substantial amount of evidence had been compiled which had not been presented at the first ouster hearing.

This all adds up to the fact that a second ouster hearing is probably inevitable. The only real question is when it will be held.

It seems unlikely that it will be scheduled for earlier than Sept. 11, the date on which Bessette is slated to return to work, although that is a possi-bilio. bility.

That means that Bessette may he back in charge of the Water-ways Division beginning the second full week in Septem-ber even while a new case is being prepared against him.

Governor Volpe seemed to Curtis would be a strong running mate with Volpe. He not only is extremely popular in his own congressional district, but he has a substantial following across the state.

George Lodge, son of the former UN Ambassador, whom some Republicans are trying to boom for high public office, certainly couldn't match strength with Curtis in a statewide fight. Governor Volpe seemed to trip over his own words when he told newsmen that he would like to remove Public Works Commissioner Ricciardi but does not have either the grounds or the votes in the Executive Council to do so.

When Volpe concluded his statements on this subject, they all added up to a desire on the Governor's part to have his own man running the Public Works Department which has more patronage than all the rest of the State agencies com-

It adopted the Saund amendment, which struck out the provision permitting $8.8 billion of Treasury borrowing to finance a five-year program for development loans. $1.2 billion was to be borrowed the first year, and $1.9 billion each of the remaining four years.

This procedure is often referred to as backdoor financing, because it by-passes the usual appropriations procedures. The bill authorized the President "to issue, during the bill. It adopted the Saund

The Saund amendment sub stituted instead a provision for a one-year authorization of for a one-year authorization of an appropriation of $1.2 billion, and the money will still have to be appropriated by the Ap-propriations Committee. This amendment was adopted by a non-record vote.

The issue is by no means settled. The adoption of such a stiff amendment came as a surprise, but everyone recognized that the Senate had ap nized that the Senate had approved Treasury borrowing for five years, and that the differences between the branches would go to a conference committee. If that committee reports back a bill similar to the Senate bill, the real contest will they have been sometimed. will then take place.

To have forced a vote at that time would have put the Members on record on one side or the other, and made it more difficult to change votes later, when the issue on the conference report would arise.

As a result, the passage of the bill with the Saund amendthe bill with the Saund amend-ment became largely a formal-ity. Even the proponents of the original version of the bill nearly all voted for final pas-sage, and the negative votes were mostly from die-hard op-ponents of foreign aid.

They urged that a plan to authorize appropriations for the program for four or five years, but to require annual appropriations, would indicate Congressional approval for continuity, and would permit the lending agency to make continuity, and would permit the lending agency to make long-term conditional commit-ments. Under Treasury bor-rowing, the lending agency could make firm commitments only of the money borrowed for current use, and condi-tional commitments of the Treasury borrowing was first used during the financial crisis in 1932 when the Reconstruction Finance Corporation needed money to loan banks and other institutions to save their solvency. The Congress as an emergency procedure authorized the agency to borrow the money from the Treasury.

How can these developing countries pay back in dollars the billions which will be loaned to them? And how could the Presidential will be loaned to them? I favor making provision for long-range planning, refused to vote for the Saund amendment, and the following day offered an amendment to authorize appropriations for the control of the contro thorize appropriations for the program for two additional years. But by that time the
